CONFIDENTIAL DISCLOSURE DOCUMENT

Please be sure to read this document thoroughly.

Each applicant is required to complete the CONFIDENTIAL DISCLOSURE DOCUMENT.

Most fieldwork agencies/sites require students to submit to background checks as a prerequisite for acceptance. These background checks can be extensive and students need to be aware that arrests/convictions may affect acceptance for some fieldwork sites and/or the future ability to become licensed. We ask for this information so students may be appropriately matched with fieldwork sites.

Confidential Disclosure Document information is considered highly confidential and is kept in the strictest confidence.

Please state all issues honestly and thoroughly to avoid serious consequences including a delay in beginning a field placement, rejection by a fieldwork site, and/or the inability to progress with your MSW fieldwork requirements. You should be aware that willful omission or misrepresentation on any part of your application including the Confidential Disclosure Document may be grounds for revocation of admission.

If admitted to the MSW Program, persons may have conditions placed on them such as restriction on the choice of field placements related to the nature of convictions. Field placement agencies/sites may refuse a student placement on the basis of certain convictions.

Students may be denied admission, or if enrolled, terminated from the MSW Program for any misrepresentation or omission of facts concerning legal matters and/or any questions in the Confidential Disclosure Document. In addition, students who are unable to perform field placements because of legal matters may be administratively withdrawn from the Program.
