CHOOSE YOUR MASTER OF SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM AT RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

Rutgers School of Social Work turns passionate, committed students into social work leaders who are prepared to make an immediate impact on the lives and communities they touch.

Ranked by U.S. News & World Report among the best social work graduate programs in the nation, our MSW graduates use their counseling skills to work with individuals and communities and to effect change as administrative leaders and policy-makers at all levels of government and in the voluntary sector. In addition to maintaining an extensive alumni network, we leverage our many community partnerships throughout New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and beyond, to best prepare our students.

Begin your journey by choosing the MSW program that fits your personal and professional goals.

Clinical specialization; management practice courses incorporated as electives	Global programs; certificates not available but area of emphasis may be included based on coursework and field experience. New students complete the course Writing for Social Workers.	Courses are hybrid and sequential. Each month, students attend one full weekend of in-person class, participate in one synchronous online meeting and also engage in online learning activities. Courses may begin and end outside the typical semester schedule, including in summer months.	Students take courses as a cohort and learn from each others experiences as they explore the application of course content to their work and field settings. New students are provided with a full calendar of classes, so that they can plan for full attendance throughout the program. Students are not able to choose electives but are consulted when courses are planned.	Field placement begins in the first semester and continues, year round, for the duration of the degree program. Students devote 8-10 hours per week during year 1 and 10-12 hours weekly in years 2 and 3. Most placements are workplace based, in a different department than the students customary employment responsibilities, and supervised by an MSW. Students may complete their placement in a single setting, provided it offers progressively challenging opportunities for growth.	$702 per credit + Fees	$1,194 per credit + Fees.

* All Rutgers MSW degree programs require 60 credits. The Advanced Standing programs require 39 credits.
