

The Camden Office of Field Education invite you to join us for a panel discussion on

SELF-CARE:

The Competent and Ethical Social Worker

It is not unusual that a challenging stressful situation is not brought up by a student until the student has reached a breaking point. When the student is asked why they did not say anything earlier, the response is usually, "I didn't want you to think I couldn't handle it". This suggests that students need a platform to process these situations and there implications for the clients they serve.

Tuesday, October 3

3:00 pm – 5:00 pm

Location:

Rutgers University Campus Center
Multipurpose Room
326 Penn Street, Camden, NJ 08102

(Light Refreshments)

Field Education hours offered with permission of Field Instructor

Register by September 27, 2017 at:

<https://selfcarethecompetentandcompassionatesocialworker.eventbrite.com>

Live streaming available when you register for 'Webcast'