#iSPEAK: Rutgers Campus Climate Survey

Overview

The Center on Violence Against Women and Children (VAWC) at the Rutgers University School of Social Work was invited by the White House Task Force to Protect Students from Sexual Assault to pilot a campus climate survey regarding sexual assault in the 2014-2015 academic year. The survey tool, branded at Rutgers as #iSPEAK, was based primarily on the survey instrument developed by the Obama Administration’s White House Task Force and Office on Violence Against Women and was modified to suit the campus environment at Rutgers University–New Brunswick. In 2016, the same survey instrument was modified again to collect data at Rutgers University–Camden and Rutgers University–Newark. In 2018, a further modified and tailored campus climate survey tool was administered online at Rutgers University–New Brunswick. Modifications were made based on feedback from piloting the survey with students on campus, consulting with experts in the field, reviewing the available literature, and with the input of Advisory Boards.

Survey Instrument

The campus climate survey contains several scales that are widely used in research and data collection related to sexual and dating violence. Much of the survey was drawn from the questionnaire recommended by the White House Task Force, with modifications made based on the experience of piloting the survey tool at Rutgers-New Brunswick in 2014 and to suit the campus environment. In 2018, a dating violence module was also added to the survey tool. In order to reduce the length of the survey instrument, researchers elected to utilize rotating modules such that students were randomly assigned to either receive the campus climate survey with the sexual violence module or the survey with the dating violence module.

When applicable, citations are included throughout this copy of the survey referencing the original instruments from which scales or items are drawn. The survey asks students to report on several aspects of their experience on campus, their exposure to educational messages about sexual and dating violence, and their opinions of the school’s response to sexual and dating violence. Students are also asked about experiences of sexual assault and dating violence. These questions allow the research team to estimate the prevalence and incidence of campus sexual and dating violence and better understand the circumstances under which these types of violence occur. Skip logic is employed throughout the survey to ensure that respondents are only presented with the questions that are relevant to them.

More Information

The #iSPEAK survey is the centerpiece of a comprehensive campus climate assessment being conducted at Rutgers University-New Brunswick. Detailed procedures, which may be adapted to other campus environments, are presented in Understanding and Responding to Campus Sexual Assault: A Guide for Colleges and Universities. It is important to note that the survey administration was only one part of the campus climate assessment process at Rutgers University. Our lessons learned are thoroughly documented and are available on the VAWC Campus Climate Project website.

* Items marked with an asterisk (*) appear in the White House Task Force’s recommended survey instrument, verbatim or with minor modifications. Items marked with a cross (†) were added in 2014 during the first piloting of the iSPEAK survey. Items marked with (○) are new and were not included in the first version of the campus climate survey but were added in 2016 or 2018.

Additional demographic information, including race, ethnicity, and year will be drawn from student data on file. Students’ responses to the survey are matched with these data, and any unique identifying information is stripped from the survey data.

[Module 1: Sexual Assault (SA) module: Display only for students randomized to take this module]

This section asks about nonconsensual or unwanted sexual contact you may have experienced. The person who had the unwanted sexual contact with you could have been a stranger or someone you know, such as a family member or someone you were dating or going out with.

Unwanted sexual contact may involve the following acts:

Unwanted touching of a sexual nature

- Touching of an unwilling or non-consenting person’s intimate parts (such as genitalia, groin, breast, buttocks, or mouth under or over a person’s clothes).
- Touching an unwilling person or non-consenting person with one’s own intimate parts.
- Forcing an unwilling or non-consenting person to touch another’s intimate parts.
- Kissing an unwilling or non-consenting person.

Unwanted penetrative contact

- Penetrating an unwilling or non-consenting person orally, anally, or vaginally with any object or body part.
- An unwilling or non-consenting person being made to penetrate someone else orally, anally, or vaginally with any object or body part.
- Oral contact includes either of the following:
  - The mouth or tongue making contact with genitals of an unwilling or non-consenting person.
  - An unwilling or non-consenting person’s mouth or tongue making contact with someone else’s genitals.
12. Did you ever experience any form of unwanted sexual contact (as described above) before becoming a student at Rutgers?*
   o Yes
   o No

The following questions below are about unwanted sexual contact that involved force or threats of force against you. This could include someone holding you down with their body weight, pinning your arms, hitting or kicking you, or threatening to use a weapon against you.

13. Since coming to Rutgers, has anyone had unwanted sexual contact with you by using physical force?*
