Spring 2019

Allison Zippay, Ph.D.
Professor
Room 213-A
School of Social Work
536 George St.
848-932-5385
zippay@ssw.rutgers.edu

Office hours: Tuesday 12:30-2:30pm
and by appointment

Course description

This course provides an examination of the methods of collecting, analyzing, presenting, and applying qualitative data. The course covers the history and evolution of qualitative research methods; theoretical orientations; data collection methods including ethnography, participant observation, in-depth interviewing, focus groups, archival analysis, and secondary analysis; methods of data analysis; and research applications including theory development and program design and evaluation.

Course objectives

1. To review the history and evolution of qualitative methods as they have been applied in disciplines including anthropology, sociology, education, public policy, and social work.

2. To understand the variety of theoretical orientations that have influenced the development of qualitative methods.

3. To examine qualitative data collection methods including in-depth interviewing, ethnography and participant observation, focus groups, organizational analysis, narrative analysis, and archival analysis.

4. To understand the methodological procedures applied in qualitative research including research design, sampling, development of interview guides and semi-structured questionnaires, and the recording of observations.

5. To understand the mixed model approach that combines both quantitative and qualitative methods.
6. To review the computer software applications available for qualitative data analysis.

7. To understand the techniques of qualitative data analysis.

8. To understand the ethical and human subjects issues involved in qualitative research.

9. To understand the application of qualitative research findings in areas including theory and knowledge development, program evaluation, and policy and program development.

Required texts

Supplemental:

Course requirements

Assignments and grading

It is important that readings be completed on a weekly basis in order to have informed class discussions. Class participation and attendance are expected.

Students are required to design and implement a qualitative research study involving in-depth interviews with at least 8 respondents. All students should be prepared to discuss their projects in class in week 14 or 15.

Other assignments will include an ethnographic observation, and a thematic analysis of a qualitative transcript.

WEEKLY TOPICS AND READINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Week 1</th>
<th>The nature of qualitative inquiry</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>January 23</td>
<td>Definitions and history</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Readings: Patton, Chapters 1, pp. 1-34; & Chapter 2, pp. 45-74
Week 2
Theoretical and conceptual orientations
January 30
Readings:
Patton, Chapter 3, pp. 85-99

Week 3
Qualitative designs and data collection
February 6
Readings:
Patton, Chapters 4, pp. 178-198; Chapter 5, 244-321.

Week 4
In-depth interviewing
February 13

Readings: Patton, Chapter 7, pp. 421-474.

Erikson, K. Everything in its path

Week 5

February 20

Ethnography and participant observation

Readings: Patton, Chapter 6, pp. 327-415.

Choose a book based on observation/ethnography to review.

Week 6
February 27

Case Studies and Organizational Analyses

Week 7
March 6

Focus groups as qualitative research

Readings:

Patton, Chapter 7,

Assignment due: Ethnographic observation

Week 8
March 13

Data analysis and interpretation

Content and thematic analysis

Readings:

Patton, Chapter 8, pp. 520-586

March 20

SPRING BREAK

Week 9

Data analysis

Data triangulation; credibility & transferability

Readings:

Patton, Chapter 9, pp. 652-733

Week 10

Computer applications

April 3: Overview of qualitative software

Readings:

Http://www.atlasti.com / Atlas-ti

http://www.qsrinternational.com / Nvivo

https://www.dedoose.com / Dedoose

Week 11

Theory building

April 10

Patton, pages 587-595 (“Grounded Theory”).
Robert Wood Johnson Qualitative Research Guidelines Project; http://www.qualres.org/HomeGrou-3589.html

*Erikson, K. Everything in its path. Re-read last two chapters.

Week 12

Conducting Qualitative Secondary Analysis (QSA) / Systematic Reviews in Qualitative Research

April 17

Readings:

Publicly available data archives:

ICPSR: http://www.icpsr.umich.edu/icpsrweb/ICPSR

The Murray Archive: http://www.murray.harvard.edu/frontpage

Economic and Social Data Service Qualidata:

http://www.esds.ac.uk/qualidata/introduction.asp

Week 13

Report writing and presentation of findings
April 24
Readings:

Week 14 & 15
Research presentations

May 1 & May 8
Re-read:

FINAL PROJECTS DUE
I. Disability Accommodation

Any student who believes that s/he may need an accommodation in this class due to a disability should contact the Office of Disability Services, Kreeger Learning Center, 151 College Avenue; dfoffice@rci.rutgers.edu; 732-932-2847. Students must have a letter of accommodation from the Office of Disability Services in order to receive accommodations. Students who attend the Newark or Camden campuses should contact the main University Disabilities Office in New Brunswick to register and to be connected directly with the liaison offices on those respective campuses.