

RBHS STUDENT SURVEY 2020

#iSPEAK: RBHS Student Survey 2020

Overview:

In the Spring of 2020, the Center on Violence Against Women & Children (VAWC) administered a campus climate survey at five schools at Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) as a part of a comprehensive assessment of the climate around sexual misconduct. The survey was based on the Not Alone toolkit from The White House Task Force to Protect Students from Sexual Assault¹ and the ARC3 Campus Climate Survey Instrument.² Our measure of sexual harassment is in line with the recommendations from the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine 2018 report on the sexual harassment of women.

Survey Instrument:

The campus climate survey contains several scales that are widely used in research and data collection related to sexual violence. Much of the survey was drawn from the questionnaire recommended by the White House Task Force, with modifications made based on the experience of piloting the survey tool at Rutgers-New Brunswick in 2014 and 2018 to suit the campus environment. In 2019 when the survey was modified for RBHS students, a sexual harassment module was added to measure incident occurrence committed by both faculty/staff and students. After a successful evaluation of harassment in the 2019 pilot survey, the sexual harassment module was added to the 2020 #iSPEAK survey along with a scale measuring discrimination and student health & academic outcomes.

When applicable, citations are included throughout this copy of the survey referencing the original instruments from which scales or items are drawn. The survey asks students to report on several aspects of their experience on campus, their exposure to educational messages about sexual misconduct, and their opinions on the school and their peer's responses to sexual misconduct. Students are also asked about experiences of sexual assault, sexual harassment, and discrimination. These questions allow the research team to estimate the prevalence and incidence of campus sexual violence, sexual harassment, and discrimination and better understand the circumstances under which these types of violence occur. Skip logic is employed throughout the survey to ensure that respondents are only presented with the questions that are relevant to them.

More Information:

The #iSPEAK survey is the centerpiece of a comprehensive campus climate assessment being conducted at Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS). Detailed procedures, which may be adapted to other campus environments, are presented in Understanding and Responding to Campus Sexual Assault: A Guide for Colleges and Universities. It is important to note that the survey administration was only one part of the campus climate assessment process at Rutgers University. Our lessons learned are thoroughly documented and are available on the VAWC Campus Climate Project website.

Section Four

This section asks about nonconsensual or unwanted sexual contact you may have experienced. The person who had the unwanted sexual contact with you could have been a stranger or someone you know, such as a family member or someone you were dating or going out with.

As a reminder, unwanted sexual contact may involve the following acts:

Unwanted touching of a sexual nature

- Touching of an unwilling or non-consenting person's intimate parts (such as genitalia, groin, breast, buttocks, or mouth under or over a person's clothes).
- Touching an unwilling person or non-consenting person with one's own intimate parts.
- Forcing an unwilling or non-consenting person to touch another's intimate parts.
- Kissing an unwilling or non-consenting person.

Unwanted penetrative contact

- Penetrating an unwilling or non-consenting person orally, anally, or vaginally with any object or body part.
- An unwilling or non-consenting person being made to penetrate someone else orally, anally, or vaginally with any object or body part.
- Oral contact includes either of the following:
 - The mouth or tongue making contact with genitals of an unwilling or non-consenting person.
 - An unwilling or non-consenting person's mouth or tongue making contact with someone else's genitals.

Section Five

This section of the survey asks questions about sexual misconduct which includes a broad range of behaviors focused on sex and/or gender that may or may not be sexual in nature. This includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual exploitation, gender-based harassment, stalking, and relationship violence (including dating and domestic violence)

62. The following statements describe how the university might handle it if a student reported an incident of sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual exploitation, gender-based harassment, stalking, and relationship violence (including dating and domestic violence). Use the scale provided to indicate how likely each scenario is. *²⁴

	Very Unlikely	Unlikely	Neutral	Likely	Very Likely
a. Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) would take the report seriously.	1	2	3	4	5
b. Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) would maintain the privacy of the person making the report.	1	2	3	4	5
c. Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) would take steps to protect the safety of the person making the report.	1	2	3	4	5
d. If requested by the victim, Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) would forward the report to criminal investigators (for example, the police).	1	2	3	4	5
