

Be The Voice For You And Yours

On November 7, New Jersey will be voting for the General Election. This is when we vote to elect government officials at the local, state, and national levels.

Increased voter participation ensures that a broader range of voices and perspectives are heard, allowing for a more inclusive decision-making process on topics such as education, healthcare, immigration, infrastructure, the economy, our veterans, etc. It helps to shape policies and elect leaders who truly reflect the needs and values of the community.

Encouraging everyone to vote can have a positive impact on the community's overall well-being and progress.

Reminder: The Six Core Values of Social Work

The NASW Code of Ethics anoints social workers to be politically active. Social workers should vote because it gives them a voice in shaping policies and electing leaders who can address social issues. Voting helps social workers advocate for the needs and rights of their clients and communities. It is a crucial way to make a positive impact and construct change.
