

Our Credo

We are a community of diverse professionals guided by our shared values:

To provide effective, innovative, and culturally responsive education, services, and research

To maintain high standards of performance, accountability, and ethical leadership

To integrate practices that reflect equity, equality, and a commitment to continuous improvement

To engage our colleagues and partners with responsiveness, transparency, and respect

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

Institute for Families

School of Social Work